

The Power of Number Porting

The Number Portability Administration Center (NPAC)

is the definitive source of number portability data for the United States.

Available exclusively to Service Providers and Providers of Telecom-Related Services

Used exclusively for Routing, Rating, Billing and Network Maintenance

In addition, certain NPAC data elements are available to specific, qualified companies whose businesses rely on quick and accurate access to this data. These services, which require a separate registration, include:

PortData Comply®

Available exclusively to businesses that must comply with the Telephone Consumer Protection Act and rely on the WDNC service for porting

WDNC

Used exclusively for verifying if a ported telephone number has been ported between wireless and wireline

PortData Validate®

Available exclusively to businesses that use telephone numbers as part of their FRAUD mitigation and risk assessment service

FRAUD

Used exclusively for verifying the porting history and service provider ownership for a specific number

PortData Source®

Available exclusively to Law Enforcement and Public Safety Agencies via the online ELEP or phone-based IVR service

ELEP or IVR

Used exclusively for verifying the porting history, service provider ownership and service provider contact information for a specific number
